June 2023

It & Technical Services

Board Report

We rolled out the 3D printing service to patrons this month to coincide with July's newspaper article and updating the technology webpage to include a 3d printing page (<https://www.oleanlibrary.org/3dprinting>). Other changes to the technology page include more details for getting technology help, an updated page outlining available software and hardware, and library wireless page.

As of the end of June we have only a single registration for the Python Raspberry Pi Class. We may need to rethink the delivery or viability of this area.

Efforts were made to develop our wireless printing capabilities.
